Annual Call to Action

The Bucks County Women's Advocacy Coalition (BCWAC) invites the public to attend our Annual Call to Action on Wednesday, May 25 from 4-6 pm. Enjoy an afternoon of delicious hors d'oeuvres, engage and network with others, get a chance to win a door prize, and hear an inspiring call to come together to conquer injustice and inequality, with a keynote address about the importance of advocating for women and girls delivered by Commissioner Diane Ellis-Marseglia. Commissioner Ellis-Marseglia, a clinical social worker, worked with children and families in Bucks County for over two decades and brings a wealth of experience and knowledge to County government where human services are a primary function.

The event will be held at the James-Lorah Memorial Home, 132 North Main Street in Doylestown. Free parking is available in the Bucks County Parking Garage located on Broad Street, with additional entrances on Union and Doyle Streets. The courtesy of your RSVP is appreciated by May 20. For more information and to RSVP, please visit <http://www.bcwac.org/annual-meeting-2016-rsvp/>. In lieu of an attendance fee, please bring a friend or two.

The Bucks County Women's Advocacy Coalition is a non-partisan coalition of more than 150 individuals and 37 organization Partners that speak with one voice. The Coalition educates and advocates on behalf of women and girls to promote systemic change to achieve gender equity and economic security for all. In the past year alone, BCWAC has had numerous successes including organizing the first regional symposium on Caregiving, releasing a white paper on "The Economics of Caregiving", blocking the expansion of predatory lending companies, driving the implementation of a long awaited study on the cliff effect, promoting full practice privileges for nurse practitioners, and coordinating with Planned Parenthood and the Women's Health Law Project on the PA Women's Health Agenda.

Coalition Partners will be available to discuss the benefits of becoming a Partner, Volunteer or Donor. We hope you will join the fight and contribute your voice.
